

2023 STEINER POETRY CAFÉ

HOSTED BY

THE KEY & THE STEINER ENGLISH FACULTY

Erica Jong affirms that "What makes a poet is a gift for language, an ability to see into the heart of things, and an ability to deal with important unconscious material."

We welcome the new year with our annual Poetry Cafe, hosted by the students of our literary magazine, The Key, and by two members of our English faculty, Ryan Cameron and Carol Bärtges.

The evening will feature original work from students in the upper school grades as well as faculty, and this year parent presenter, Luis Fernando Llosa. Come join us as we share what Alice Walker calls "the wonder of where we are through poetry."
